IMMIGRANTS BADLY TREATED

HEARING OF CHARGES AGAINST SEVEN RAILROADS

Accused of Discriminating in Rates and Not Properly Providing for the Confort of Alien Passengers-Inspector Describes a Trip to Philadelphia.

Special Examiner Martin S. Decker of the Interstate Commerce Commission opened a hearing yesterday in the Federal Building on the charges of alleged discrimination in immigrant passenger rates on trunk lines. The charges were made by Immigration Commissioner Robert S. Watchorn. The accused roads are the Pennsylvania. Baltimore and Ohio, Central Railroad of New Jersey, Lehigh Valley, Erie, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Philadelphia and Reading. Assistant District Attorney Henry A. Wise is conducting the inquiry for the immigration authorities.

The first witness was General Passenger Traffic Manager Wood of the Pennsylvania. He was questioned on the difference in rates and relating accommodations, the specific points mentioned being Atlantic City, Philadelphia and Washington. For an immigrant ticket to Atlantic City $3 is charged, whereas the excursion rate to the same point is $2.50. The immigrant rate to Washington, D. C., was given as $5.60 and the first class rate $5.65, but these rates, so nearly equal, cannot command the same accommodations. The holders of immigrant tickets could under no circumstances enter a Pullman car. Seats were assured only in the event cars were not overcrowded. and sleeping accommodations were not provided.

The published tariff for first class passage to Philadelphia is $2.25, which was reduced from $2.50 as a result of difficulties over the interchange of mileage. The immigrant tariff is $2.25, but the tickets are limited to

The testimony of Mr. Wood showed the fact that the original immigrant tariff was $1.75, which was eventually increased to $2 and later fixed at $2.25.
"Why were these rates increased?" asked Attorney Wise. "I suppose to augment the income from that kind of traffic," replied Mr. Wood. "The increase in wages is enormous. It is something like $23,000,000 yearly more than ax or seven years ago."

"Can holders of immigrant tickets ride in such trains as the Congressional Limited?"

"The increase in wages its enformation. It is

"They cannot," was the reply. The second witness put on the stand was The second witness put on the stand was Philip Cowen, immigration inspector at Elis Island. He described a trip be took on June 17 to Philadelphia over the Central Railroad of New Jersey. He went as an inmigrant and returned first class.

Mr. Cowen said he left Ellis Island with the immigrants at 7 P. M. and that they were until 11 P. M. getting started on the railroad journey. He described that part of the railroad station assigned as a waiting room to immigrants as dirty and without room to immigrants as dirty and without other sleeping accommodations than the floor, although the passengers were often kept waiting all night before they were kept waiting all night before they were started toward their destination.

The train on which Mr. Cowen travelled was made up of seven cars of the old and now almost wholly disused type. Many were obliged to sit and sleep on the floors. In several of the cars there was no drinking water and in none of them was there ice water, lavatories or washstands. Water coolers of an obsolete kind were there but not used. The cars, he said, were dirty not used. The cars, he said, were dirty. The train arrived at Philadelphia at 1:45 A. M. There the passengers were taken from the seven cars and crowded into a six car train which was to take them to St.

Cowen, however, went only as far as Philadelphia, taking a return train at 2:20 A. M. with first class passage at the same rate as for immigrant passage. He described the contrast between the two kinds of service.

The hearing was resumed at 2 P. M. after adjournment for luncheon. Immigration Inspector Cowen again took the stand, but Attorney Wise had hardly begun to question him when Attorney Patterson of the Pennsylvania asked for a recess to allow a con-cultation of the counsel for the accused

After a twenty minute conference in After a twenty minute conference in which Examiner Decker and Attorney Wise participated it was announced by Mr. Decker that the hearing would be post-poned until July 1 to enable the accused roads to confer with the immigration authorities with a view to arranging the ques-

TOOK BUT A SHORT FLY. Beachy's Balloon Goes Up With Difficulty and Many Excuses.

Lincoln Beachy began a series of ten ascensions in his dirigible balloon at Happyland, Staten Island, yesterday. According to his press agent Beachy is the only practical aeronaut there is, as his balloon can sail in any wind and in any old direction. Beachy was scheduled to get away at 2 o'clock in the afternoon yesterday, but announced that the wind wasn't just right. His press agent said he couldn't go up because his manager wasn't on the job.

However, both wind and manager got wound about 5 o'clock, and the bailoon, which is modelled after that shown here by Roy Knabenshue, was taken from its tent and hauled into the open. After several columns of explanation from Press Agent Wotherspoon, Beachy straddled the bamboo frame, started his motor and the calloon shot up into the air to a height of came down again right away and landed in an open field, as the wind was still wrong, blowing toward the ocean, and the water was cold. Beachy will do the stunt twice a day for short time, providing the manager's wind SCARED ITALIAN VICTIMS. Afraid to Testify Against Bandits Who Steal Their Children.

The District Attorney's office has received information that the band of kidnappers two of whom have been convicted in General Sessions stole a number of children from Italians and that the children were returned after money had been paid. The names of the parents have been ob-tained in some instances, but they have refused to give any information that will help the police. They even deny that they gave up any money. nelp the police. They even deny that they gave up any money. The police lay this to their fear of the bandits.

"The poor people," said Assistant District Attorney O'Connor, "are afraid to tell on these men. We know that Mimi San Filipo is the head of the gang, but we cannot get any information as to where he can be found."

The trial of Mrs. Rosina Martinese, who id she wanted to confess and then didn't, did not go on yesterday. Ignazio di Leo-nardo and Pietro Pompenellia, who have been convicted of kidnapping seven-year-old Salvatore Siatta, will be sentenced this morning. An effort will be made to get a confession from them, unless the "death sign" is worked in court again.

AFTER SPIRIT FRUIT COLONY.

Rich Residents of Chicago Suburbs Threaten Jacob Beilhart's Love Institution.

CHICAGO, June 20. A crusade against Wooster Lete Spirit Fruit colony of Jacob Bellhart was threatened to-day by the Lake county Law and Order League, by the Lake county Law and Order League, an organization which has among its members many rich North shore residents.

Declaration of war against Beilhart came from Secretary Thomas H. Quayle of the league, who expressed himself as "simply horrified" at the reachings of Beilhart on the questions of marriage and love.

Beilhart laughed when told that the wealthy men of Lake county were after him. Non-resistance, the chief doctrine of the colony, would be the only weapon of defence, he said. His followers had a fight similar to that now threatened when the colony was in Lisbon, Ohio.

THE GRAIN MARKETS.

Prices fregular-Wheat Crop News More Favorable-Weather Good for Corn -Oats Strong.

Wheat ended at a decline owing in the main to rather better crop accounts and liquida-tion. Early prices were first higher, then weaker and then rallied. The swing of the market was within narrow bounds. There was little or no support in the early trading. Liquidation was general, as the action of the market was disappointing to many. The weekly crop report of the Cincinnati Price Current was rather favorable, stating that winter wheat improvement continues. Many of the private reports were also favorable. Yet at one time firmer, Liverpool cables and some unfavorable crop reports from the Northwest gave momentary firmness to prices here and in Chicago. Liverpool advanced equal to 1% to 1%d., closing % to 1 higher. The rise there was due to bullish American news, light offerings, general support and a good demand for distant deliveries of Plate wheat and a return of wet weather in the United Kingdom.

Reports of green bugs were again received from spring wheat districts. Wire worms too were said to be doing damage to the young plants. From Kansas, moreover, as well as other parts of the winter wheat belt, came bullish reports. Threshing re-ports from some parts of the Southwest were anything but encouraging to a bear.

A despatch from Great Bend, Kan., said: "Wheat is in bad condition from effect of frost. Some fields will not be harvested.
Think can't make one-third crop." Secretary
Smiley of the Kansas State Agricultural Department announced that his estimate of the yield in that State is from 13 to 15 per cent. less than on June 1. But the crop advices in the main were

But the crop advices in the main were rather more cheerful than on Wednesday, especially those from the Northwest. And in any case many recent buyers were disposed to take profits, and though large commission houses were buying from time to time yet the market responded in a rather feeble manner. Pit traders sold on the rallies, believing that the advance had gone far enough for the time being at any rate, although not a few of the larger operators incline to the opinion that ultimately a higher range of values will be established. Meantime, however, it is largely a narrow, prosessional market, with corresponding fluctuations in prices.

The reports regarding green bugs in the spring wheat belt were contradictory. Some said that the bugs were present, but that little damage had occurred.

At Chicago commission houses were good buyers of September at around 95c. The Northwest bought at times, but in the main was apparently a seller. Shearson, Hammill & Co. and Pringle. Fitch & Rankin were good sellers of September. Logan & Bryan and Bartlett. Frazier & Carrington were sellers. Chicago reported sales of 75,000 bush, of No. 2 hard for export via Battimore. Total export sales were reported of 45 loads. Minneapolis—"Three of the largest elevator companies here, the Peavey, Vandusen Harrington and Osborn McMillan companies, report crop reports very favorable,"

The primary receipts were 408,000 bush, against 493,000 last week and 211,000 last year; shipments, 348,000, against 267,000 last week and 28,000 bush, of four, making 124,000 thus far this week, against 115,000 in the same time last week and 63,000 last year. The exports of wheat were 88,000 bush, making 735,000 thus far this week, against 764,000 in the same time last week has been exceptionally favorable for development of the crops. There is scarcely a section that fails to record much improvement in the outlook because of favorable weather. Although despatches frequently refer to the fact that the crops are still late, a few weeks such as the last will br rather more cheerful than on Wednesday, especially those from the Northwest. And

Rankin: "The wheat position is and prices seem to be tending still higher."

The CORN SITUATION.

Though stronger at one time prices reacted later, though the crop is declared to be backward. Poor stands are reported, but the weather is better. Liverpool advanced 3/d, owing to a better demand for American and Plate cargoes and light offerings. The Price Current says: "The corn crop situation is improving under favorable weather. Armour & Co. stated that their crop advices were bad."

Chicago advices reported a further increase of country orders, but local traders were generally more disposed to sell. There was an absence, however, of pressure to sell for short account. The cash market at the West was firm and more active. Reports from Irow that the crop was growing fast enough to make up for the late start tended to take the edge off bullish sentiment for the time being.

The primary receipts were $40,000 bush, against 1,002,000 last week and 634,000 last wear, with shipments of 734,000, against 1,002,000 last week and 634,000 last wear, with shipments of 734,000, against 1,002,000 last week and 634,000 last wear, with shipments of 734,000, against 1,002,000 last week and 890,000 last year. The look once one of the look of the late start lended to take the edge off bullish sentiment for the time being.

THE OATS PEATURES. Oats were higher early, showing really more strength than other grain, owing not only to generally dubious crop prospects, but to a stampede of the shorts. The Cincinnati Price Current says the crop outlook is "more assuring." Armour & Co. had bad reports about the Illinois crop of oats. Wall Street

One of these was the purchase of the old John Eckford shipyard on Stanton street, frontthe East River from Mangin to Tompkins street, by the Bradley Construction Company, which is building part of the bridge subway loop. The property will be used for the storage of materials. The rest of the private sales in Manhattan were mostly concerned with flats and tenements. 3,000 VAMPS ON PARADE.

Poughkeepsie Has a Celebration That Dims the Importance of the Varsity Crews. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 20.-There were 3,000 firemen in town to-day for the annual parade of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association. Companies from Saugerties, Red Hook, Mount Vernon, Newburgh, Rensselaer, Kingston, Tuckanoe, White Plains, New Paltz, Athens, Fishkill Voorheesville, Hudson, Tivoli, Ravena, Ossining, Troy, Groton, Ellenville, Rosendale, Valatie, South Rondout and Wappingers Falls were in line, and all the girls from all those towns were here.

There was no reason why the volunteers should go thirsty, for more than fifty saloons had signs out reading "Welcome, saloons had signs out reading "Welcome, Brave Laddies," or "Welcome, Heroes." And the dry goods stores rivalled the wet goods stores in their appeals. Lew Miller, the champion window dresser in the Consolidated Dry Goods Store on Main street, had something rather tasty. One of the figures which does duty ordinarily in showing off men's swell suits was propped up on a ladder against the side of a house all in flames of red ribbon. The fireman had his back to the assemblage and he was trying hard to get up and rescue a large blonde wax lady torso leaning out of the blonde wax lady torso leaning out of the window. It didn't need a whole figure. Lew explained. The lady torso took it rather calmly, seeing that she was wax and the flames were high and hot.

"Never see nothing like that down in New York, young feller," said Israel Spinks proudly. "This is a pretty live town when it comes to catching on to ideas."

Main street was crowded with the volunteer firemen before the parade, all wearing their uniforms. They ranged all the way from slick effects in buff that made the wearers look like coachmen down to chic looking, plain blue, short coated uniforms, the occupants of which resembled nothing the occupants of which resembled nothing so much as a company of hotel bellboys.

The fact that the college crews were in town was wiped out of sight, except for the sale of college flags. The volunteer heroes were very catholic in their tastes. Most of them carried at least three different flags. Skiddoo hats, fans, fancy umbrellas and everything that was in style years ago sold

"Guess this ain't like Coney Island," boasted Israel Spinks.

The city officials reviewed the parade from a stand erected in front of the City Hall. The stand was one made for city several years ago by J. O'Donnel contractor and leading member of Republican organization, and one of the officials, according to a local paper, remarked that it was "the first time he had ever seen the Democrats standing on a Republican platform."

TRAIN WRECKED IN TUNNEL B. & O. S. W. Limited Jumps Track and Cars Are Smashed Against Stone Wall.

MITCHELL, Ind., June 20.-Limited train 12 on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railway, running between St. Louis and Cincinnati, was wrecked early this morning while passing through a tunnel fourteen miles west of this city. A remarkable feature is that no one was killed, though several passengers were badly hurt and a number of others were bruised. In the middle of the tunnel, which is a quarter of a mile long, there is a sharp curve, and there the engine left the track. The coaches were hurled against the wall of the tunnel and were broken and splintered

Four passengers were badly hurt, but the majority of those cut by glass and bruised received their injuries in trying to get out of the coaches.
